Brooklyn's Finest PAESAN'S PIZZA AND RESTAURANT

This time of year, we are reminded of how much family and friends mean to us. For the Scavio family, they are reminded every day of just how important family is and the unique bond they have created over the years. Frank Scavio is one of the owners of Paesan's Pizza and he gives us an account of the struggles and successes that his family has endured to build their family business into what it is today.

It all started 20 years ago when my brother Vinny was working at my cousin's pizza place in East Greenbush. An opportunity presented itself in Albany, NY. A small, rundown building on Ontario Street, which was known as the college ghetto was for sale. My father gave us the option of going to college or starting a family business. This was not a hard decision for my two brothers, Lorenzo and Vinnie, and I. Leaving everything behind, we packed up and were off to Albany. We were denied our first apartment in East Greenbush, which ultimately forced us to live in one room above the pizzeria. It seems hard to believe, but the five of us lived in one room, sleeping on air mattresses and sharing one bathroom. Talk about close quarters!

Looking back now, those were some of the best days. We worked 17-hour days, 7 days a week. An 8-hour shift was considered a day off. But Sundays were the one-day that we all looked forward to. My mom would cook a big meal; we would all gather in our tiny room and have a family dinner. We had a makeshift table and used old pickle buckets as chairs. It was great! My brothers and I took turns eating because someone always had to be downstairs working, but we were together and that was good enough for us.

Business was hard for us in the beginning. Here we are, a no-name family from Brooklyn, NY trying to build a successful restaurant. Between the three of us, we did not have any formal business training. Most days were slow and there were times that we contemplated closing and going back home. After watching my mother become emotional one night and question whether we made the right decision, we made a promise to her and were determined to succeed. My family worked endless days with no time off. This business was and still is our number one priority. The debt we owed our family slowly vanished and my mother no longer questioned our move. We had dreams of expanding our brand and we did just that.

Today we have six locations and I am grateful for the continued support we have received from this community over the years. Looking back, the most memorable moment was our first Grand Opening. The excitement and challenge was enough to make us keep going each day. There have been rough times along the way but we managed to work through them. My father always said that if you put a nut in a paper bag, it doesn't make a sound. But if you put three nuts in a paper bag, it makes a racket. It was his way of teaching us to stick together. And we have.

20 amazing years have gone by and we still have not separated from each other. Now we all have our own homes and live on the same street. Our family has grown from five to 15 and we still gather every Sunday for family dinner. Not a day goes by that I do not think about where we came from to where we are today. Coming from a large Italian family, we had a lot of support and love over the years, and our hope is that we will continue to grow and hand it down to the next generation. People always ask me what is the secret to our success? Motivation, determination, and most importantly, hard work.

So, from our family to yours, THANK YOU for your continued support over the past 20 years!
